What is the Limited Supports Waiver?

- This is a lifelong program for individuals with intellectual disabilities, other related conditions, or acquired brain injuries.
- It is designed to provide services throughout the state that help people of all ages to remain in their homes and be able to direct their support services, and live as independently as possible.
- This waiver has an individual spending cap of $22,109.20 per year for all Medicaid approved individuals and $7,774.64 for those that do not qualify. The waiver provides limited service options to allow people with disabilities, their families, and support teams flexibility in determining and changing needed services.
- This program serves a limited number of individuals based on available funding.
- There is a waiting list for this waiver program.
- Individuals interested in a more comprehensive waiver are able to receive LSW services while waiting for enrollment on those other waivers.

Eligibility

- Must meet financial eligibility requirements for Medicaid, and
- Be eligible for Division of Services for People with Disabilities (DSPD) services with an intellectual disability, related condition, or acquired brain injury level of care.
- Must be able to live safely in the community and can be healthy and safe while using the LSW.

The process

1. A support coordinator meets with you and educates you about what services are available on the LSW and answers questions about what you want and need. You can bring anyone you want to help you answer the questions.
2. Choose what service delivery you want to use, Self Administered Supports (SAS) or contracted services providers.
3. Enroll in SAS services and hire your employees and/or meet with services providers and choose who you want to work with.
4. Create goals that are important to you.
5. Monitor ongoing services and change them when needed.
